Research Employment:

Richard Rufus of Cornwall Critical Edition
Associate Editor, 2011-present

Researched sources for and the influence of Richard Rufus's early-thirteenth-century commentaries on Aristotle's Metaphysics and De anima. Identified parallel passages in the manuscript works of Rufus's contemporaries and immediate successors.

Assistant Editor, 2009-11

Researched sources for and the influence of Rufus's commentary on Aristotle's De generatione et corruptione and collaborated on the final preparation of this text for publication. Prepared for web publication a text of the Arabic-Latin translation of Aristotle's Metaphysics, collating three early manuscripts and the incunabulum edition. Collaborated on the annotation of the longer of Rufus's two commentaries on Aristotle's Metaphysics.

Consulting Assistant Editor, 2005-9

Collaborated on the transcription, collation, and annotation of Rufus's longer Metaphysics commentary. Identified parallel passages in the manuscript works of Rufus's contemporaries and immediate successors.

Postdoctoral Assistant Editor, Department of Philosophy, Stanford University, Stanford, California, 2003-5

Collaborated on the transcription, collation, and annotation of Rufus's commentary on Aristotle's De anima, along with final preparations for the publication of his commentary on Aristotle's Physics. Held primary responsibility for the identification of sources and parallel passages in the works of Rufus's predecessors, contemporaries, and immediate successors, printed and manuscript.

Editorial Assistant, 1999-2003

Primary- and secondary-source research associated with the critical edition of Rufus's works, particularly his commentaries on Aristotle's Physics and Peter Lombard's Sentences. Established the evidence for Rufus's response to one of his contemporaries and conducted reviews of the literature on several of his contemporaries and successors.

Greystones Manuscript Project, Center for Medieval Philosophy, Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., 2011-present

Collaborated on the transcription and annotation of selected questions from Robert Greystones's early-fourteenth-century commentary on Peter Lombard's Sentences. Translated six questions on issues related to free will from Latin into English in preparation for a projected publication of the Latin critical edition and English translation of these questions.
